

Open to new ideas. Since 1365. As a research university with high international visibility and a wide range of degree programmes, the University of Vienna is committed to basic research open to application and research-led teaching, as well as to career development of young researchers and to the dialogue with economy and society. That way, the University of Vienna contributes to the education of future generations and to the society's ability to innovate.

The appointment of particularly qualified researchers to university professors is an important strategy of the University of Vienna. Become part of this vibrant and future-oriented organisation.

At the Faculty of Catholic Theology of the University of Vienna the position of a

University Professor of Christian Philosophy

(full time, permanent position) is to be filled; in case of a first time appointment to a professorship, the appointment may be initially limited – with an extension option

The successful candidate will be expected to continue the faculty's engagement with modern and contemporary Continental Philosophy and to teach a broad range of subjects within this field. The core areas are in the disciplines of philosophical anthropology and the philosophy of religion. The approach taken should address the challenges of our contemporary age, and show openness towards non-European philosophies, and interreligious and intercultural dialogue. The faculty aims to strengthen its collaboration with the various theological disciplines and encourages joint ventures with related faculties, especially with the Faculty of Philosophy and Education. The faculty is looking for a candidate who is a specialist in the core areas listed above, and who is keen to contribute to the key research areas of the faculty.

Successful candidates should have the following qualifications:

- An MA (or equivalent qualification) in Catholic Theology (MA level), a doctoral degree/PhD in Philosophy or Catholic Theology with a specialisation in philosophy, and post-doctoral experience at a university or other research institution
- Habilitation (venia docendi) in a subject field relevant to this position or an internationally accepted equivalent qualification is desirable
- Outstanding achievements in research, excellent publication record, international reputation
- Experience in designing, procuring and managing large research projects, as well as the willingness and ability to lead research groups
- Enthusiasm for excellent teaching, teaching experience at universities as well as the ability and willingness to teach students in all phases of their studies (bachelor's, master's, or doctoral level) in German and English, to supervise academic theses and to promoting young academic colleagues

The University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to acquire, within three years, proficiency in German sufficient for teaching and for participation in university committees. In addition, the University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to be prepared to take over responsibility on the organisational level of the Faculty of Catholic Theology and the University, if necessary.

We offer:

- a negotiable and attractive salary (classification according to the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Staff, allocation to job group A1; section 98 of the Universities Act 2002); the salary will be individually negotiated under consideration of the previous career development and the current income situation
- in addition to the statutory social insurance, the University of Vienna offers a pension fund to its employees
- a “start-up package”, in particular for the initiation of research projects
- a dynamic research location with well-established research funding provisions
- attractive working conditions in a city with a high quality of life
- comprehensive advice and support in relation to finding an accommodation, change of schools and dual career
- a wide range of support services offered by central service institutions

The University of Vienna pursues a non-discriminatory employment policy and values equal opportunities, as well as diversity (<http://diversity.univie.ac.at/en>). The University lays special emphasis on increasing the number of women in senior and in academic positions. Given equal qualifications, preference will be given to female applicants.

Application documents:

- Application letter, including a brief description of:
  - current research interests and research plans for the immediate future
  - current and planned foci in academic teaching and the supervision of young researchers
- Academic curriculum vitae, including information about “esteem factors” (e.g. experience as a publisher, functions in research societies or programme committees)
- List of publications, including:
  - specification of five key publications which the applicant considers particularly relevant to the advertised professorship
  - provision of an Internet link for download or electronic submission of PDF versions of these five publications
  - information about citations and impact factors, depending on the common practice in the relevant research area
- List of talks given, including information about invited keynote lectures at international conferences
- Third-party funds list of acquired third-party funds (subject, duration, origin, volume) as well as, if applicable, of inventions/patents
- Overview of previous academic teaching and supervised theses, especially doctoral theses
- Teaching evaluations (if available)
- Copies of documents and certificates

universität
wien

Applications in German or English should be submitted by e-mail to the Dean of the Faculty of Catholic Theology of the University of Vienna, Sigrid Müller, Universitätsring 1, 1010 Vienna (sigrid.mueller@univie.ac.at) and CC to the Managing director of the dean's office, Rudolf Kaisler (rudolf.kaisler@univie.ac.at).

Reference no.: CP2018

The application deadline is 15 April 2018.